Description

at4 is a software engineering and technological innovation company, based in Mallorca since 1998. Being a multidisciplinary team of about twenty people. Our main services are: technology & digital transformation consulting and custom software development (intranet applications, websites and web applications, mobile apps for iOS and Android, IoT ...) In at4 we program mainly in Java EE, .NET, PHP, Javascript, nodeJS, HTML5 with CSS3 (saas, less), SQL, Swift and Objective C, using the most recent and recognized programming frameworks and patterns. We have experience in sectors such as tourism, eAdministration, real estate, restaurants, business services, urban mobility and Smart Cities ... In other words, as an innovation-oriented company we are cross-cutting by conviction, in the sense that we seek novelty to always learn and we do not restrict ourselves to work for companies in a few sectors. And we do so for the benefit of the companies we work to/with.
